Lin Rountree

The Proud Endorser of Wisemann

Lin Rountree, the Jazz and R&B Trumpeter, is the latest artist to emerge from the 'new' Detroit music factory. Lin began playing the trumpet when he was just 11 yrs. old, And has shared the stage with many notable artists.

His playing has been described as soulful, funky, and inspirational. Be it R&B, or Jazz, he has an innate ability to connect his music to his listener's soul.

The first single "For Your Love" in his debut project, GROOVETREE, BDK Records 2008, stayed on the SJ Charts for 15 weeks, showing the world that Rountree is the real deal.

The Proud Endorser of Wisemann

Micky Wrobleski

Principal Tuba of Beijing Symphony Orchestra,
Professor of Tuba and Euphonium, China Conservatory of Music
Founding member, China Brass

Featured Lecturer / Performer throughout Asia

Micky Wrobleski was born in Virginia, Minnesota, U.S.A. in 1974. He began his study of the tuba at the age of 16, after 2 years of saxophone. At the age of 17 he began his music career performing as a member of the Twin Ports Wind Ensemble, a professional Wind Band made up entirely of college and high school music educators. From 1992 to 1997, Micky attended the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, where he studied tuba with Dr. Jerry A. Young.

In 1997, Micky was chosen to be the Principal Tuba of the Chicago Civic Orchestra, the training orchestra of the world-renowned Chicago Symphony Orchestra. While in Chicago, Micky studied with Gene Pokorny, Principal Tuba of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, and was concurrently principal tuba with several of the orchestras in the Chicago region while also maintaining a busy studio recording, brass quintet, and private teaching schedule.

Since 1997, Micky has appeared as a substitute/extra tuba with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the Minnesota Orchestra, the Cincinnati Symphony, the Seoul Philharmonic, the Jilin Symphony Orchestra, and the Minnesota Opera.

In 2002, Hu Yongyan invited Micky to become the principal tuba of the Shanghai Broadcasting Symphony Orchestra. A position Micky held until, in 2003, Tan Lihua invited him to assume the principal tuba position with the Beijing Symphony Orchestra.

In 2005 Micky gave the Chinese premier performance of the Concerto for Tuba and Orchestra by American composer John Williams. In 2008, Micky gave the first ever solo tuba performance with the Taipei Wind Ensemble. On this concert, Micky performed Tubby the Tuba, Australian composer Barry McKimm's Tuba Concerto as well as Micky's own arrangements of The Blue Bells of Scotland, and The Carnival of Venice. Micky has also brought to life several new works by Chinese composers featuring the tuba in a solo role. Currently, Wang Xi Ling is composing a new work for Micky and the Beijing Symphony Orchestra, there are also several composers (Macedonian, American, Chinese, Swiss, and Korean) in the process of writing works for Micky.

Active as a chamber musician, Micky is a founding member of China Brass, the China Brass Quintet, the International Concert Brass Soloists, and is a frequent collaborator with the Beijing New Music Ensemble.

In Beijing, Micky maintains an active schedule balanced with orchestral performances, solo performances, chamber music, composing, teaching tuba and euphonium at the China Conservatory of Music, studio recording, and his English Bulldog, Bully.

DEU-900SP

The Wisemann DEU-950 / DEU-900 Compensating Euphonium features four stainless steel valves with 3 top and 1 side action design with compensating system to bring the lower register in tune and it offers great intonation, free-blowing, flexibility, and control in all registers with a rich tone, particularly in the difficult low range. Its lead-pipe is not directly soldered to the bell, but is instead connected by a brace, allowing the bell to vibrate more freely. The DEU950 Compensating euphonium is designed to meet the performance needs of the pro-level players.

The Proud Endorser of Wisemann

Shelby Brown

Born in Michigan, saxophonist Shelby grew up in Detroit and began his Jazz life when he was 13 years old. It was George Howard which led him to appreciate many famous jazz musicians. Shelby first hit the airwaves in 2003 with Miracle, and his new CD No Boundaries is definitely worthy of an audience. Shelby became the proud endorser of Wisemann Saxophones this year, And his new line of Sax's the Shelby Brown series are on the market now.

SAXOPHONE

Professional Straight Alto Saxophone

SAS-007

THE INNOVATIVE DESIGN OF THE NECK JOINT OF THIS SAXOPHONE HAS RECEIVED WORLDWIDE ACCLAIM.

- * Key: Eb
- * Finish: Black Body Silver Plated Keys and Bell
- * Body: Straight
- * Engraving: Bell
- * Neckjoint: Special Design
- * Auxiliary Keys: #F
- * Pads: Premium

Straight Alto Saxes are handcrafted one at a time to maintain consistent high quality, professional instruments. This handcrafting is evident in the flawless movement of the key mechanisms and smoothness of the overall register. The temperature of the entire instrument is controlled during soldering and assembly in order to avoid any change in the characteristics of the high grade material used in manufacturing.

The revolutionary design of the neck assembly allows for the minimum disturbance to the air flow of the instrument. By utilizing a smooth joint between the neck and body, the air moves unhindered through the horn improving timbre and intonation in the median register. The innovative design of the neck joint of this saxophone has received worldwide acclaim. A patent has been applied for this design which will change forever the way we look at saxophone construction.
